For Immediate Release

Moab, UT, Moab Museum announces that it is one of 71 institutions in the United States selected to participate in the Collections Assessment for Preservation (CAP) program.

CAP helps museums improve the care of their collections by providing support for a general conservation assessment of the museum’s collections and buildings. The museum will work with a team of preservation professionals to identify preventive conservation priorities. The final assessment report will help the museum prioritize its collections care efforts in the coming years.

“Archivally housing and preserving the artifacts and archives entrusted to our care is an essential element of the Museum’s mission. This grant award accelerates our progress toward collections care at the highest standards of professional practice.” Forrest Rodgers, Executive Director

The CAP program is administered by the Foundation for Advancement in Conservation through a cooperative agreement with the Institute of Museum and Library Services.
